

Streamlining Strategic Sourcing

Unlocking Efficiency in Supplier Management

Strategic sourcing and supplier management are vital for sustained growth. Efficiently identifying, selecting, and managing suppliers ensures a dependable supply chain, which is vital for your operation.

Post-COVID Transition

As the world moves on from pandemic disruptions, a proactive approach to supplier management and strategic sourcing becomes paramount. Centralizing, organizing, and qualifying suppliers is the best way to secure cost-effective, supplies and reduce delivery disruptions.

Supplier Management Process

Accelalpha's process for supplier management has been successfully deployed by many global organizations. We lead our customers through the following five steps:

The Sourcing Process

Efficient supplier management is based on the sourcing process. This entails identifying capable suppliers who can provide the right products at the right price, quality, and quantity, precisely when needed.

Centralizing Supplier Management

Oracle's cloud applications enable you to centralize supplier data for accessibility and action. Advanced master data management ensures supplier profiles, certifications, and performance metrics are available for data-driven decision-making resulting in your competitive advantage.

Organizing Supplier Relationships

Efficiently organizing supplier relationships based on strategic importance, whether it's raw material providers or technology partners, enables you to optimize your resource allocation.

Qualifying Suppliers for Success

In industries like high-tech, pharmaceuticals, and industrial manufacturing, ever-evolving standards require you to have proven, reliable suppliers. Qualification criteria can include product quality, reliability, and cost.

Enable Cloud Technology

Centralization, organization, and qualification of suppliers enhances sourcing efficiency and reliability. Oracle's cloud applications enable data-driven decisions, strengthened collaboration, and consistent supply chain management.
