

The Journey

At Accelalpha we redefine Human Capital Management (HCM) as Human Experience Management by prioritizing employee journeys within the organization. From onboarding to exit, we simplify experiences by streamlining HR processes through intuitive “journeys.” By implementing Oracle’s HCM solution for our customers, Accelalpha makes it possible for your organization to focus on delivering exceptional employee experiences, driving connections, nurturing talent, and sourcing talent from within. By bridging the gap between organizational and employee strategies, we empower individuals to explore growth opportunities, develop new skills, and align their career paths with organizational goals. Experience a seamless and fulfilling journey with Oracle’s HCM solution.

The Mission

Our mission is to enhance organizations’ employee experience. We prioritize the human experience, driving connections & developing talent within the organization. By simplifying processes and providing real-time reporting, we enable HR teams, managers, and employees to make proactive, data-driven decisions. Our HCM solution leverages technology and process automation to improve efficiency and effectiveness. With embedded AI, analytics, and predictive workforce modeling, we enable organizations to align their workforce with strategic goals. This ensures they have the right people in the right places when needed, and also supports the sourcing and development of talent.

The Approach

Accelalpha provides comprehensive services to ensure your success. We leverage our proprietary implementation methodology to minimize risk, time, and cost. We focus on the primary modules such as Core HR, Talent Management, Benefits Administration, and Workforce Planning. Our approach emphasizes stability and integration, mapping out logical implementation roadmaps. Among our managed services, we offer health check assessments to identify system gaps and align functionality with your business requirements. These assessments provide valuable insights and a roadmap for driving efficiency. Trust us for your Oracle Cloud HCM implementation, seamless integration, and ongoing support, to propel your organization towards success.
